

The Salt Lake Tribune

Open High School wins tech award

Published: June 9, 2011 08:10PM

Updated: June 15, 2011 01:13PM

honor • The Open High School of Utah, a full-service virtual high school, was named the eSchool of the Month by eSchoolNews magazine. The award is based on how well schools integrate technology into their overall school model, including use of technology each day in administration and instruction; students and staff all incorporating technology; teacher training in technology; using technology to gather data and then using the data to inform instruction.

© 2011 The Salt Lake Tribune